

The image shows the front cover of a book. The cover is bound in a dark green, textured material. A large, detailed illustration of various flowers, including peonies and dahlias in shades of pink, red, and orange, is printed on a light beige background with a subtle damask pattern. A horizontal, rounded rectangular label with a yellow-to-orange gradient is centered over the flowers. The word "METROPOLITAN" is printed in a dark red, serif font on this label. On the left side, a dark green fabric strap is visible, attached to the cover with four small white circular fasteners. A small gold-colored metal corner piece is visible at the bottom right corner of the book.
